

WHAT IS THE FALL LINE TRAIL?

The Fall Line Trail came together as an opportunity to "connect the dots" of active transportation networks taking shape in the Greater Richmond region. Several sections of the trail already existed or were planned in localities' comprehensive and special area plans, including the existing Ashland Trolley Line Trail and Chester Linear Park, and planned Trolley Line Connector in Henrico, Brook Road protected bike lanes in Richmond, and the Northern Emancipation Highway Special Area Plan in Chesterfield. A natural corridor for a long-distance trail began to emerge that would provide opportunities for active transportation, recreation, and economic development.

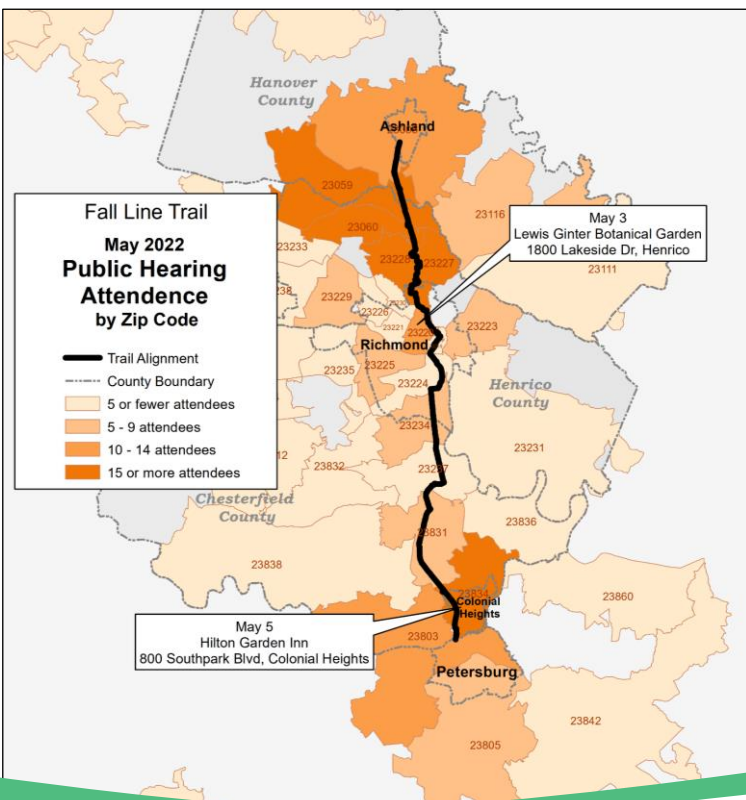

Officially announced by the Virginia Governor in October 2020, the Fall Line name reflects the corridor's unique geography, and it's the perfect name for the new biking and walking highway to connect people in Central Virginia.

43 MILES 7 LOCALITIES

PUBLIC HEARINGS

In May 2022, the Virginia Department of Transportation (VDOT) held duplicate meetings to share information about the proposed location of the Fall Line Trail. The purpose of the meeting was to request input from the public on the alignment of the Fall Line Trail and to provide the public an opportunity to review and comment on the development and identification of the Fall Line Trail, as well as the anticipated future implementation.

285 TOTAL ATTENDEES

- May 3, 2022
Lewis Ginter
205 Signed In
- May 5, 2022
Hilton Garden Inn
80 Signed In

Online Surveys 388

Public Hearing 47

Mailed/Emailed 34

Emailed 47

Mailed 1

48
Written
Comments

469
Comment
Sheets

517

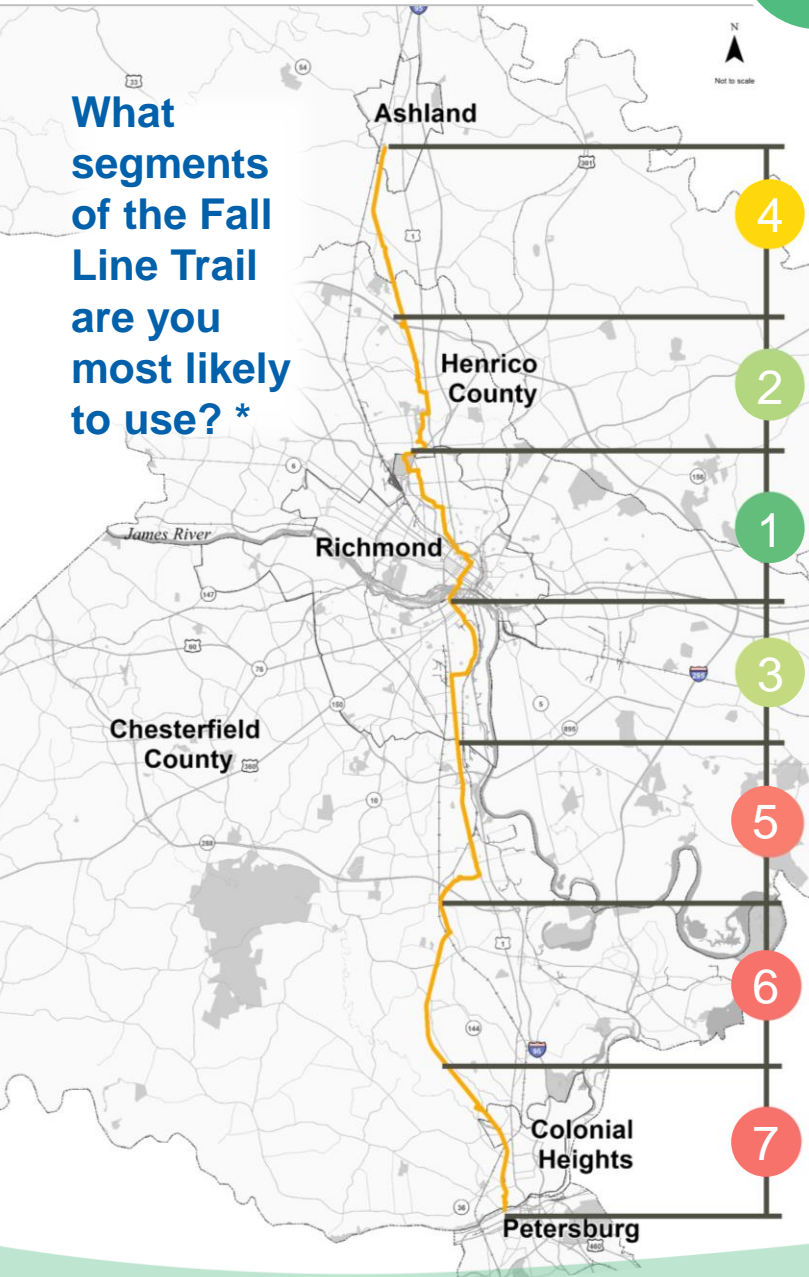

COMMENT SUMMARY

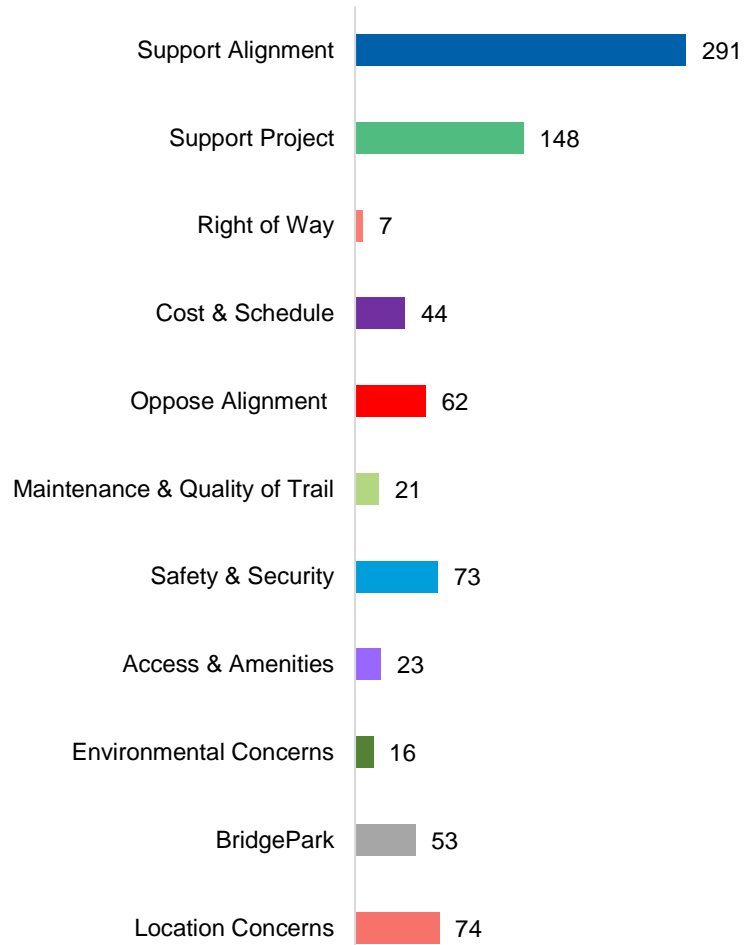

The public was provided the opportunity to give written or verbal comments regarding the Fall Line Trail at the public hearings or by completing a survey online in addition to mailing or emailing comments. The following summary provides a brief overview of the comments received.

TOTAL COMMENTS

What segments of the Fall Line Trail are you most likely to use? *

Primary Comment Themes

Notes:

* Segments ranked 1- 7 (most likely – least likely), based on survey rankings.

 Multiple themes may have been referenced by a single commenter.

